Advanced Training

As part of the scientific programme of the Congress, School for Practicing Physicians on Topical Issues of Diagnostics, Treatment and Prevention of Infectious Diseases will be held. The Congress is planned to be accredited by the Coordinating Council for the Development of Continuing Medical and Pharmaceutical Education under the Ministry of Healthcare of the Russian Federation. The following fields of specialization are planned for accreditation: Allergology and Immunology, Anesthesiology and Intensive Care, Bacteriology, Virology, Gastroenterology, Infectious Diseases, Clinical Laboratory Diagnostics, General Medicine, Neurology, General Medical Practice (Family Medicine), Healthcare Organization and Public Health, Pediatrics, Therapy, Phthisiology, Epidemiology. Specialists from other countries will be able to receive a Certificate of Participation in the Congress in electronic form.

Pre-registration of in-person participants is until 15 May 2026.

Pre-registration entitles you to receive a personal badge with a barcode (taking into account the time to generate the CME (continuing medical education) points code) and a participant's package with Congress materials (programme and other printed materials).

Participants who have not completed pre-registration will be able to register at the Registration of Participants desk during the Congress days. Upon registration during the Congress, the Participant receives only a badge with a time tracking barcode to generate a code for receiving the CME points.

There is no registration fee for the Congress participants.

ABSTRACTS

Abstracts are accepted for consideration only from members of the Euro-Asian Society for Infectious Diseases (who have no outstanding membership fees), or in collaboration with them (the number of abstracts is no more than three). The publication is free.

Deadline for submitting abstracts – until 05 April 2026.

Abstracts should be sent only through the registration and application website <https://easid.micepartner.ru/> as an attached file executed in the Word text editor.
